

Welcome to the Gulai House. The house of spices. Often described as fiery, fragrant and flavourful, Malaysian cuisine draws from a melting pot of spices and herbs from the old spice routes of Asia, greatly influenced by neighbouring Indonesia, India, China and the Middle East.

Incorporating only the freshest ingredients, Malaysian cooking uses fresh herbs such as serai (lemongrass), pandan (screw pine leaves), and kaffir lime leaves, as well as lesser-known herbs such as daun kemangi (a type of basil), daun kesum (laksa leaf), nutmeg, kunyit (turmeric) and bunga kantan (wild ginger buds). Traditional spices such as cumin and coriander are used to complement Indian and Chinese spices like pepper, cardamom, star anise and fenugreek.

Fresh herbs and dried spices are traditionally pounded together to make a fine paste which is then cooked in oil. Fresh coconut milk is often added to create a creamy flavour to the dishes.

Take a rich culinary journey into the intriguing world of spices.

From The Tandoor

Tandoori is by far the most popular Indian dish all over the world. The term tandoor refers to the traditional clay oven used for cooking and baking. The heat from the tandoor is traditionally generated by charcoal or wood. The flavour from the charcoal makes the dish unique; succulent, smoky, with just the right amount of spiciness.
